

A Book Study With The “7” Habits

The following is a template that will allow any teacher to incorporate the “7” Habits into a book study. This can be easily modified to fit the needs of diverse learners at all levels.

Directions:

1. Introduce the “Matrix” to the students and explain how to use it.
2. Read a chapter with your students and then complete the matrix for chapter one.
3. Continue to read the remaining chapters in the story while discussing and filling out the matrix.
4. When finished with the story, use the template to complete a poster showing each of the “7” Habits in the story.
5. Optional: Have students create a new book cover for their story. The book cover can be used as a cover for the “7” Habit posters and assembled into a book format. (See attached example)

The “7” Habits Book Study Matrix

Directions: As we read, listen for characters following the “7” Habits in each chapter. Write down the page number that you find the habit and write down a few words to help you find the habit later.

EXAMPLE:

(pg. 8)- Mark was studying for a test

Brief sentence or phrase along with page number to help you find the habit later.
